Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Thursday 04 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain and snow today, heavy later. Drier in northwest.

Today:
Outbreaks of rain, sleet or snow. The snow mainly over high ground in south, but to lower levels to north of the Central Belt. Drier, brighter across the Northern Isles and northwest Scotland. Cold easterly winds.

Tonight:
Rain, sleet or snow becoming heavy and persistent in the evening, especially in the east. Generally falling as rain through the Central Belt southwards.

Friday:
Further outbreaks of rain, sleet or snow. Some disruptive snowfall possible over inland areas in the north. Feeling bitterly cold with strong easterly winds.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
A bitterly cold easterly wind will bring snow showers into eastern and central parts. Plenty of dry weather in the west.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.